“ Kelly,
Well sis, it has been over three years now that we have all been trying to survive without you. I never posted anything here for you. I think I have felt like posting something here, on a memorial site, was like saying goodbye? I am sorry but I won't do it, say goodbye that is. It may have taken me over three years, but I found the strength to post here based on what dad would often say. He would say: "Never say goodbye! Always say, I'll see you later!" So please tell dad I get it now. I will never say goodbye Kelly! Just, I'll see you later my sister, my friend. I love and miss you so!!!! Give dad a kiss from me.
Love You Always!

“ Kelly, I am so sorry that I lost contact with you for all those years. We had some fun times, riding on my motorcycle and listening to records at Larrys. I remember going to visit you in NH when your kids were very small. I have found your kids recently. Tommy is so cool and Carisa looks just like you. So very beautiful. I promise you that I will be their friend for the rest of my natural born life, and they and you, will always have a place in my heart. I will always love you and will see you on the other side.

“ Well, almost a year kid. Miss you and your sick sense of humor! Tom turning 21 on Monday. He is a good boy. Young Gentleman and yes, you would be very proud of him. Sometimes we don't always see eye to eye but that is ok and as long as I can keep him "steered" right I will keep doing so. Say "Hi" to Dad, and I miss you both terribly! Please keep giving us all the strength to keep doing what we need to do.. Love you both.

“ Well, it is the holidays and I can't stop thinking about you and dad and Christmas's of the past. It comforts me to know you are an angel in Heaven and are finally at peace, but I miss you and wish we were all still young and celebrating the French's Christmas all together. Please send my love to dad and I know you will both be with us on Christmas! I love you!

“ i miss & love you so much mommie. you have no idea. everytime the phone rings; part of my heart still stings hoping it would be your voice on the other end saying 'hi sugar'. i love you more than i even knew i could love anyone. i miss you mama. keep me safe.

your little girl. - June 01, 2009 at 03:24 PM

“ Just wish you could call me one more time so I could hear your voice and the way we could pick apart things and laugh. Miss the laughter. We are ok tho and will be because our family has each other. Thank God that is one thing Mom and Dad had taught us. As a family we are strong and can help each other no matter what. We have been through thick and thin. (As dad would say.) Love you always.

“ Hi Sweetheart. Well yesterday has come and gone. For the most part it was a quite day and gave me a chance to reflect on the meaning of the day. I am sure you are resting with all those who have gone before you and you are finding peace and comfort in their love. There is no easy way to explain what I am feeling but to say that I can remember the day you found out you were going to be a mother for the first time and how you laughed and cried and ran all around the kitchen jumping with joy. Well honey there is no greater love than what a mother has for her children and I know you had that love for both your children. As for me The pain of losing you will never go away and I will learn to deal with it on a day to day basis Pray for me honey and know that my love for you comes from the depths of my heart and soul. Rest in peace my sweet child. Love You MOM

MOM - May 11, 2009 at 09:55 AM

“ Hey kid, Miss your voice. Wish I could hear it one more time. Your laughter too. That is all you ever had to do and it would get Me (Everyone) else going too. Weird part is that sometimes I feel you are closer to me than you have ever been and that is NOT so bad. It makes me feel like you are happy and safe and I know you are. Please, just keep us in your thoughts and prayers as we grow old... ;) Love you and Happy Mothers Day...always, your sister, Donna

“ There are some days that it still doesn't seem real...there are some days that I have to hold myself back from the words coming out asking mom "Have you heard from Kelly today?" I love you and I always have.... Sometimes we get so caught up on the negatives and don't quite seem to remember the positives until it is too late.... I know you protected me when I was little and I know you are still protecting me now. I know you are here with me.. I know you are here with all of us! I love and miss you!

Cathy - May 04, 2009 at 03:53 PM

“ mommie,
i dont know why todays so difficult. ive been very strong like i know youd want me to be; but theres something about today. i keep longing to hear your voice on the other end of the phone. & the kisses you used to blow at the end of every converstion. your voice still rings in my ears & makes my heart ache with every passing second. i dont understand why you left me, but i cant explain what id give to have you back. youre still my bestfriend & even though a part of me has been ripped out - i know you live in my heart forever.

i love you so much mama, & i know everytime i pray youll hear me. i miss you.

“ It is weird how one can not know what day it is but our mind is and will be always impacted. Been feeling down then I remembered that today is the 14th of the month. I guess I have an excuse then. They say today is the day you left us two months ago. Does not seem real still. Spread your wings and pray for all of us now please as it seems it doesn't really get easier. It just makes some days more tolerable than others. We all love you and miss you Kelly and always have.

Donna Payne - April 14, 2009 at 08:33 PM

“ Good nite me sweet child. I find it difficult to write down some of the things that I am feeling at the time. Be rest assured my child there is not a moment of any day that goes by that I cant feel the pain of your not being here for me to say Hi or I love you hon. I pray that you are resting gently in the arms of the angels and your Dad. No greater love does a parent have for their own flesh and blood. Pray for me honey to help me get thru some of the days that are a little more hard for me to handle than others. Sleep tight my love

Mom - April 10, 2009 at 10:37 PM

“ Our aunt was truly an angel; a true blessing from above, and nothing less. Although we may not have alot of memories; however, the ones we do have are absolutely cherishing. She is among the other angels, as well as her beloved father, our papa. Not only is she an amazing aunt, she is also a loving mother of two of the best cousins anyone could ask for; Tommy and Carisa Flaherty. She is just as well a beloved daughter to the world's best grandmother; Carol French. Aunt Kelly had fought for years, but is only now getting her reward; peace and eternal happines. We love and miss you aunt Kelly. You will forever be in our thoughts and prayers, and thank you for all that you gave to this family. And please say hello to papa for us.

Brandon and Stephen - February 28, 2009 at 12:01 PM

“ 44 years ago heaven sent us an angel to earth, and on February 14th the angels called Kelly back home from her journey. She will be greeted at Heaven's gate not only from God, but another angel, her dad (Hank). He will greet her with open arms, and she too will greet her dad with open arms. Her time on earth was precious, meaningful, and grateful. SHE will be sadly missed from all her family, friends, and especially her two angels, her children; Thomas Flaherty and Carisa Flaherty. My heart aches for all friends and family, for I know they loved her with all their hearts. My deepest sympathy, my thoughts, and my prayers, as well as my heart goes out to the French and Flaherty family. I know how the pain hurts, and how the sorrow may never fade away, and as a close, loving, caring family, you all will see your way through this tough time. Kelly's family is always there for one another, as they were for her. She was family to me also, and I will miss her so much, but I am so grateful for the years to know her. Remember, "It's okay to cry because it's over, but smile and rejoice because it happened." "If tears could build a stairway and memories could build a lane, Kelly your family would walk right up there and bring you back again." Kelly i love you and miss you. I am truly sorry for your loss and I will always be here for the French and Flaherty family.

“ My sister, our sister. No feelings can describe the pain and emptiness we are all feeling. The only bit of comfort we get out of this is that you may finally find some peace at last. I know in my heart that is what you wanted. I know how much you loved your children as well the love they have and will always have for you. We will do our best as I know you would want us to and take good care of them as well as mom. Kelly, we all love you dearly and miss you terribly which no words could ever describe. Love you and say "hi" to Dad for me.

Mommie;

I need you more than anything. God took you away from us all too soon, but I know now you're up there dancing with papa & all the angels. I'll always remember looking up into your beautiful big blue eyes, the way your smile made my soul at ease, & the way your scent made me realize there's nothing in this world like the feeling of your arms wrapped around me.

You are my everything, my heart & soul, my hero. You don't know what I would give to see you face one more time. I miss you Mommie, & how you always made me feel & see everything would be okay. I love you more than you'll ever know.

I need you.

"you know it's true, everything I do..I do it for you"

I love you,

& I'll always be..your angel eyes.

your daughter, Carisa. - February 27, 2009 at 05:40 PM

To my beautiful, sweet child of mine.

I know this road has not been easy for you;

but I also know the many times you've tried to travel & would succeed.

There has never been a day that you were not on my mind, or in my heart & soul. I long to hold you one more time, but know that I can't.

So please, hold me dear to you now & carry me through this painless road that you are now traveling on.

You now sit beside the Lord & surrounded by angels; so pray for me to endure the next several days to follow.

Forever in my heart,

Mom.

Mom - February 27, 2009 at 05:28 PM

“ Heaven has received another angel and now Kelly can be the fun-loving free spirit that we all knew her to be. There is no more battling with the demons that she tried so hard to rid herself of. She now can have the peace she so desperately searched for.

We all love you and will keep you in our hearts and souls forever!

I miss you and love you
