

Lewis Trowbridge

December 30, 1938 - February 20, 2017

Lewis F. Trowbridge, 78, of Hudson, died Monday, February 20, 2017 at the Community Hospice House in Merrimack, NH.

He was born December 30, 1938 in Wallace, Idaho, son of the late Leo and Dorothy (Whiting) Trowbridge.

Lewis was the husband of Sandra (Cummings) Trowbridge of Hudson, with whom he shared 56 years of marriage.

Lewis served his country honorably, having retired from the US Air Force after serving 21 years, many of which were with Explosive Ordnance Disposal (EOD). He was later employed as a government contractor, traveling all over the United States and several times to the Middle East. Lewis was an avid fly fisherman who also enjoyed woodworking, listening to music, reading and working on antique firearms. He loved spending time with his family and will be greatly missed by all who knew him.

Besides his loving wife, Sandra, survivors include two sons, Eric Trowbridge and his wife, Tamra, of Florida, Glenn Trowbridge and his wife, Sandra, of Hudson, two daughters, Erin Trowbridge of Virginia, Tracy Lavalliere and her husband, John, of Merrimack, NH, five grandchildren, Steven, Elizabeth, Victoria, Nicholas, and John, Jr., a sister, Shirley Chandler of Michigan, as well as several nieces, nephews, and cousins.

Visiting hours will be held on Sunday, February 26th from 1pm - 4pm in the DUMONT-SULLIVAN FUNERAL HOME, 50 FERRY ST. IN HUDSON. Burial will take place in the NH State Veteran Cemetery, 110 Daniel Webster Hwy, in Boscawen, NH, with a service taking place in the cemetery chapel at 12:30pm on Monday, February 27th. All may meet at the cemetery chapel. In lieu of flowers, the family requests donations be made in Lewis's loving memory to Home, Health, & Hospice Care, Attn: Hospice House, 7 Executive Park Dr., Merrimack, NH 03054.

“ I am sorry that I did not write you on Thanksgiving but I was sad because I knew that it was your favorite holiday. Tracy, John and I had our dinner on the Saturday after the holiday. We have a pandemic in the US and many people are dying. I asked Tracy and John to be tested before we had the meal. Now it is Christmas and Erin and I were the only ones at the dinner as both Tracy and John have this virus and must stay at home for at least 10 days. We had a nice meal but again missing you as I do each and every holiday. Hopefully things will be better in the coming year. Know that I love you as much as ever!

“ My Bunkie, Tracy and John offered to take me to visit you, but my doctor wanted me to stay off my foot as much as I could, so I had to turn them down. I would have loved to come there as I feel at peace there more than any other place I have been. I guess I know that your body is there. but your soul is with God. Tori was married on Nov. 7 and I got to go to the wedding with Erin. I wish you could have gone with me. Never forget that I love you and miss you more than one could imagine.

“ Yesterday would have been our 60th wedding anniversary. I didn't post it yesterday because I was too sad. It's those special days and special holidays when I miss you the most. So, Bunkie-- Happy Anniversary (belated) and know that I love you and think of you every day.

“ Today is Father's Day. I so wish that you were here so I could celebrate it with you. Erin and I visited you last week. She bought some flowers (no dandelions) and put them on your grave. There was a big funeral that day for a 21 year old Army girl who had drowned while swimming. Even the Governor was there. Thought you might like to know that Eric is planning to be buried there as well. So even though you can't be here, I will be thinking of you today and all the rest of my days until we are together again. I love you!

“ On this Memorial Day, I was not able to get to the Veteran's Cemetery to pay my respects to you and to all the other military men and women who gave their lives so that we could be free to live our lives. Please know that you are always on my mind and in my heart. I love you still!

“ My Bunkie,
Today is Easter Sunday. Because of the Covid-19 pandemic, Tracy, John and I cannot have Easter dinner together. Hopefully this pandemic will be over soon and people can be back together celebrating the holidays with family and friends as we have always done. My thoughts are with you on this holy day but I am sure that God, Jesus and all the other people in Heaven are having a joyful celebration! I love you!

“ My Bunkie,
Today marks the 3rd anniversary of your passing. It still seems like it was only yesterday. How I wish that I could see you one more time. And time has not made it easier to try to remind myself that you are gone. I think of you every day and when I see something that we used to enjoy doing together, I rejoice until I remember that things like that are no longer possible. My love for you is as strong as it was the day you left me and I will always love you until we are together again.

“ Bunkie,
I forgot to wish you a Happy Birthday yesterday because I was so worried about Buzzy. You know you are always in my thoughts. I hope you are there to greet Buzzy today as he is on his way to heaven to be with you. He will be as happy to see you as you well be to see him. Someday we will all be together and things will be wonderful again!

“ I missed writing you on Thanksgiving and I am sorry. Because it was your favorite holiday and you weren't here, I was kind of sad but having Glenn, Sandy and Nicholas and Tracy and John here, it helped me to not think about you being gone. Also, Christmas has passed and New Years is coming up and now to me. it is just another holiday. Buzzy is very sick and I don't know if he will survive, but if he doesn't, I know you will be glad to see him in Heaven. He is 19 years old now. You are always in my thoughts and I made copies of our Christmas picture for each of the kids. I also had found a binder with slides in it so I made copies of them and also gave that to the kids and they were thrilled as they didn't even remember ever seeing them. So I told them that you must have sent me the idea and so I gave you credit too. I am missing you most around the holidays. I will forever be your Bunkie #2 and I love you!

“ My Bunkie, I am sorry that I didn't get to come to honor you on Veteran's Day, but John and Tracy did and I am glad that they did.. They had invited me but I wasn't feeling that great. Bill and Jean say we will try to get up there one more time before winter sets in. Your favorite holiday is coming up and we will have dinner here and will be thinking of you as we are eating our meal. So wish you could be here with us, but I know you will be here in spirit. I love you!

“ I got to visit you twice in one week!! How wonderful it was to be there with you! Eric and Tamra visited the second time and it was so nice to see Eric being able to talk to you. I know you were there because a beautiful monarch butterfly came right to us so we know that you were happy that we had come.. It is getting to that time of year when the leaves are changing colors and it reminds me of the times we used to take a lunch and go to Washington, NH and enjoy the time together. I have to remember the good times because that can't happen again. I love you, my bunkie!!

“ Bunkie,
Yesterday was my 80th birthday. How I wish you had been here to help me celebrate. Glenn and Sandy invited me and Tracy and John to a wonderful barbecue. We had a great meal and great company. I even got phone calls from Eric and Erin I needed the company and the only thing that would have made it better was having you here. I still love you!!

“ Today is Memorial Day. In the last few days, Bill, Jean and I, Erin and Tracy and John came to visit you. Jean and Bill had made you an Easter basket and I brought you some lilacs. It is still painful for me to come to the cemetery as it brings up the fact that you are gone, but I know that some day down the road we will be reunited and that gives me hope. Your sister asked me to tell you that she is thinking of you. Erin left today to go back to Virginia, I think of you all the time and have reminders of you around the house. I love you my Bunkie!

“ My Bunkie,
Yesterday was Thanksgiving. It was very cold and windy outside but we were warm inside. Tracy and John, Glenn, Sandy and Nicholas and Bill and Jean were here. The turkey was yummy and Glenn and Tracy did a great job of carving the turkey which used to be your job. The kids helped me get the dinner cooked as my back was hurting me. Lots of laughter and story telling. I know you would have enjoyed it. I love you, my bunkie!

“ Yesterday was Veteran's Day. Glenn posted a beautiful tribute to all our family members, even me. There was a nice ceremony at the Veteran;s Cemetery and I know you would have liked it very much. I did not go but saw part of it on TV. It is starting to get cold now and it will probably snow soon. Thanksgiving is coming up and it is sad for me as that was your favorite holiday. It won't be the same without you! I love you, my bunkie!!

“ My Bunkie,
Last Thursday, Bill, and Jean took me to the Veterans Cemetery to visit with you. Jean brought you a small bouquet of fall flowers which looked so nice in the green grass next to your headstone. The cemetery is beautiful --red maple trees and other colorful trees. It is so peaceful there and I am so glad that we decided to place you alongside your fellow veterans. It is hallowed ground and always will be. I love you and miss you!

“ I can't believe the summer is just about over. Soon the leaves will be turning color and I will think of you and I taking a ride to look at the beautiful colors along with our picnic lunch. I have no desire to go now since it was so fun just being with you. That is one of the things that I enjoyed with you and now you are gone. I guess I will have to use my memories of this now. It really makes me sad but this is just one of the things that we had so much fun doing together! I will always love you, my Bunkie!!

“ Well Dad, yesterday was kind of tough.
It is pretty hard to fathom that you have been gone a year now.
I am grateful that God picked you and Mom to be my parents.
I am finding myself remembering more of the good times our amazing family created together than the events that transpired this time last year. It is these memories that I choose to focus on going forward.
I will indeed love you forever.

“ Lew was a great friend while we were stationed in Alaska USAF together! He was a hard worker, always happy go lucky, with the sweetest wife that always kept him grounded.

I'm so sad that he had such poor health for so long, but his wife Sandy was there for him to the bitter end, always taking care of him and keeping me informed of his many stays in the hospital and when he was able to go back home. Lew will be missed, but we know none of us are getting out of here alive! Rest in peace my good friend.

“ I remember the first I came home on leave. I was fresh out Basic Training and saw no one was home yet. I went to a neighbor's house to wait for someone to get home. Leslie Brown, an awesome neighbor, said that my dad knew I would go to her house and wait for him there. He called over to her house when he got home and said he was on his way. I could not wait for him to arrive! I tore out of that house and spotted him coming down the road. He had THE biggest smile on his face - just a look of total pride and happiness I jumped into his arms crying and hugging him. 35 yrs. later, I remember that experience like it was just yesterday. I feel your arms around me as I write this Dad. I will love you forever!

“ While we were kids, there were several times when Dad came down to our level to have fun with us. One such memory I have is Dad putting on the record player a record called "Pass in Review". Dad would pretend to "conduct the band" while us kids danced down the hall. Once my Dad was watching a football game and I asked him who the teams were. One team was the New England Patriots and when I asked him "Where is New England"? He said that is where you were born. From that point on, I was a New England Patriot fan and still am today. Thanks, Dad. My Dad became a Cubmaster when I joined Cub Scouts and I was so proud that my dad was "The man" in our Cub pack Towards the end of my Air Force career, as I was dealing with issues in my personal and profession life, he provided me with "tough love. At the time I resented that but looking back, I realize that the tough love he was giving me was setting the foundation for me to become a better and stronger man. Dad, I am missing you so much already. I hope to someday join you in heaven and maybe we can play a game of cribbage up there. I love you,
Dad.

Your son, Eric.

“ Bunkie, I am missing you already. 56 years was not enough time to share with you! I know that you are in a better place now and that makes me happy to know that you are no longer suffering with your back pain. Some day, I will be joining you and we can pick up where we left off. I loved you then, I love you still and I always will.

Your loving wife,

Sandy

“ Bunkie, I can't believe that two months have passed since you left me to be with God. It seems like yesterday and I miss you more every day. I just watched the wonderful pictorial that the funeral home made. It is a beautiful tribute to you. My heart is broken knowing that I will never see you again until it is my time to leave this earth. Then I can rejoice knowing that we will be together again. I love you!

“ I met Lew, freshly discharged from the Air Force, when I went to work for Avco. He immediately took me under his wing and showed me the ropes. That was more than 45 years ago, and we have been friends every since. He was the type of guy that would give you the shirt off his back without even thinking twice, and smile the whole time he was doing it.

I will miss, but it is a far, far better place that you have traveled to.
