“ Words at this time can not express what you and your family are feeling and going through. I can only imagine. I hope in time that the sadness in your hearts become smiles and laughs as you remember the wonderful times that you all shared. The times that I saw McKenzie and the things that I heard, she always seemed to be enjoying life completely. Over the past two years she became a strong young lady and through all she endured she lived, laughed and loved. She has left lasting impressions with so many. Stay strong Lowe family, thinking of you,

Macaroni definitely fulfilled the purpose of life and through her actions provided a newer and richer experience for everybody she came in contact with. I have had the greatest pleasure of going on many an adventure with her over my lifetime. She has encouraged me to do things and visit places I would never have discovered on my own.

My mother passed away from cancer in Apr. 2010 and my best friend also from MA, Worcester died 6 mos. later also from cancer. I know your pain, there are good days and not-so good days. Accept the moral support offered to you by family and friends, Try to of think of it as Mackenzie was just such a great, good, wonderful person that she deserves to meet God before the rest of the family. My thoughts are with you. *I was searching for my Aunt's obit, who died earlier this year when I saw your daughter's photo and it caught my eye.
