

Pamela Lewis

December 8, 1957 - December 14, 2019

Pamela “Pam” Lewis died in her home on December 14, 2019, in Nashua, NH, due to complications following cancer.

Ms. Lewis was born on December 8, 1957, in Albany, NY, to Thomas and Marguerite Lewis and grew up in Delmar, NY. She moved to Nashua, NH, in 1988 and earned a Master’s Degree in Education from Rivier University in 1995. For almost twenty years, she was the art teacher at Thorntons Ferry Elementary in Merrimack, NH.

Ms. Lewis was a genuine, kind, loving, and devoted mother, friend, daughter, and sister. She loved spending time with her children, friends, and family; enjoying the warm weather on a beach; and winning nearly every hand of cribbage she played. She will always be remembered for her compassion, thoughtfulness, and unexpected sense of humor—and for making the best White Russians on the planet.

Ms. Lewis is survived by her daughter Emily (Allison) and sons Jeffrey (Kristy) and Thomas (Maria), as well as her brothers Paul (Gwen) and Mark (Linda).

Services will take place in the spring in Ashland, MA.

“ I'm so very sorry to hear this, wow she will be missed. Pam was always so friendly to everyone she met. I, as a custodian at TF, got to know her very well, she was so sweet. We would share cd's of classical music that we thought each of us might like and we talked about them. I know she loved the Caribbean and spent time in the Punta Cana area of the Dominican Republic. Pam's family should know how much she was loved and missed greatly by all who met her. God bless.

“ Pam will always be remembered as a terrific, passionate art teacher and, more than that, a trustworthy and caring friend. I first met Pam when she was my daughter's art teacher at Infant Jesus School and then was blessed to have her become a colleague at Thorntons Ferry. We worked on many special projects with our students and I will be forever grateful for her willingness to try something different!

“ My friend Pam will be missed so very much. She was trustworthy, compassionate, intelligent, gentle, kind...yes, all of that. But, more. She had a way about her that reached your heart and soul just by being with her. Being with Pam had it's own power of love. She loved and respected you to the nth degree and being in her company made you feel like you really mattered. She had a way of making you feel important and valuable, seeing what mattered most to you. Always concerned for your well being – the most unselfish person you could know.

Being humble, she never would acknowledge how creative and excellent a teacher she was. Her students appreciated her easy method of teaching and her passion for art. Her colleagues admired her teaching skills and her love for her students.

Her three children, Emily, Jeff and Tom were her world and they were there to take tender care of her when she needed it. At any given moment in time she was always there for them as they for her. Everything she ever wanted was for them to be okay and to continue to be there for one another. She loved their company and who they are as individuals. They are the most valuable thing she had in her life. She always told me that! They are her legacy.

David Bowie wrote a song "Heroes" - "We can be heroes just for one day" – well, Pam was a hero every day of her life.

I have a friend named Pam. She will always be in my heart and life and it will never be the same without her.

Love you Pam.
