“ To my best big brother a little sister could ever ask for. I have so many wonderful memories but one that stands out is when I was a little girl and you put me on your shoulders and took me to your baseball games. I was always so proud and happy. I wasn't on your shoulders, I was on top of the world. We would play horsey and you would get down on all fours. I would jump on your back and laugh, and you would try to buck me off so you could tickle me. All my memories were always happy when I was with you. We had cute nicknames for each other. You called me Jissa and you were my Jiss! Until we meet again, Jissa!
