I am so so sorry to hear about Jason. This seems so hard to comprehend. I am stunned, he was only 49. This brings back memories of Jason sobbing at the end of his father's bed (my brother). I Pray that the Lord comforts Ann and her children and the family, his loving two sisters Jennifer and Kari and his beautiful grandchildren.

May he rest in peace.

“ There are def to many to list, rides to your mother in laws when she was sick, helping with gabby, fun times when Michael was staying with us and let's not forget playing out in the puddles with Krystal and one of your "Karen" neighbors calling the cops because she thought a woman was in danger because you splashed Krystal and she screamed. You'll be missed jay watch over your family both blood and not and raise hell like you always do. Hugs to Ann and the kids I'm so very sorry for this horrible loss.

“ Anyone could see that Jason was always so happy when he was with his children and grandchildren. I loved how he'd jump in to help with whatever was needed. He never judged and was always accepting and he may have also been a little bit goofy (to make you laugh)! He and Ann were a team since they were kids and stuck together through everything, which is truly amazing. That's love. And Jason was very loved. Life was not always easy but he knew what was important to his family and friends. Jason, your family and friends are going to miss you terribly. My heart breaks for your children, grandkids and most of all Ann. I hope you can rest and have no more pain. Sending love to the family.

“ Family isn't always blood, and Jason was just that; family. From the day I met Cassandra we were best friends and Jason+Ann became my second family. I spent summers, weekends and endless cheerleading competitions with them. Jason was always the life of the party. From cracking jokes, to being his silly goofy self. He had a smile on his face and a good joke to tell. He was that person that let a group of cheerleaders shave his head after competing at Nationals and that parent that always kept the adults as well as the kids on their toes. He was always there to greet you, support you but also tell you to suck it up and toughen up. He was our biggest cheerleader and supporter. He was taken from this world far too soon, but if I know Jason he's up there looking down on his family and friends cheering them on and keeping them safe. Jason, I am forever thankful to not only have known you but to have also have you as my family. Forever thankful for the years I got to spend with you and your family, getting to know you for you and hear all your jokes Thank you for the endless memories, jokes and laughs. I'll hear them again someday my friend.
