“ Gosh, where do I even begin? My entire childhood was with you, Shawny, and Jackie. So many memories of the good, the bad, and the CRAZY :) All of the trips together, weather it be going to the beach, silver lake, Maine... all packing up into Tracy's Ford Explorer with the music blasting singing our favorite songs.. until.. "Ew who farted??"... Joey: "Wasn't Me" Almost always it was either you or Shawny, Haha! All the times we gathered together to go fishing, or turtle hunting. I remember the time you caught that baby snapping turtle and you raised it, it was huge!!! That was something you loved! All the crazy N64 battles spending the days playing 007, and beating each other up because one of us found the Golden Gun, and then killed you with it!! All the times sleeping over, staying up all night being wild, and Joe coming downstairs yelling at us to GO TO BED, hahaha. I remember the day Wrangler died, how sad we were, I remember when you told me, I broke down crying and you just hugged me and held me there, you were the strong one who held us together. All the times sneaking into your window, getting a running start and having to jump into it, although... the front door was always unlocked. Too many memories, and they are all rushing through my mind. You are already so missed Joey. You will forever be in my heart and my memories. I love you so much <3

“ I was Joey's school nurse when he was at ALT. I remember many a day he would come to my office saying he wasn't feeling well and wanting me to call his mom to come pick him up. After convincing him he really wasn't sick and would shrug, and as he was leaving give me that sweet smile of his. my deepest condolences to his family and friends

“ My favorite memory of Joe is that he could fix anything. He fixed my lock box after I broke my key off in the lock. I will remember his quiet, sweet nature. Rest in peace, my friend. You touched so many lives. We are all better people because of you. My deepest sympathies to your family.

“ Our favorite memory of Joey is 2 things, the day we came home from Vermont and all the Mearls came over for Pizza, including Joey and my favorite is that every time I saw him or talked to him he always had that smile that was actually kind of a grin. He was quiet but always talked to everyone..... Linda, John, Tina, Mike, John, and Tony.
