My fondest memory of Larry is the complete way he enveloped you in a hug. He was a kind man with a big heart that he did not mind sharing. His love for his family and friends meant that he would do anything within his ability to help them and defend them from whatever, or whomever, tried to harm them. He did all this with a smile.

The light of love that illuminates this world is a little dimmer now that Larry is gone.

May God receive Larry into His arms and hold Larry there for all eternity. It is only fitting that someone that brought so much love into this world should spend eternity enveloped in the perfect love of God forever.

“ Fortunately, I've known Larry for the majority of my life. What I'll remember most is his smile. It was completely infectious. That's part of the reason why people felt so comfortable around him. The other being that he was totally genuine. He was the real deal...and people could sense that. I know I could. It was a pleasure and an honor to be part of Larry's life for so many years. When I think of him in the future I'll smile, because I'll picture him smiling. That's a gift. Thank you Larry, you'll be very much missed.
