“ Just came across this and memories with Mark flooded back. When I did LNA work at Edgewood, we had some good laughs, and shared good stories. He always called me “Olive” and would say “Olive you!!” I am so sorry to see this, I love Mark. I will always remember him.

“ I’m so sorry for the loss of this special soul.... I considered Lisa one of my very best friends growing up and spent many times at their home for dinners and sleepovers. Mark always had me in stitches with his jokes. The going joke was that Mark could just say the word “Kleenex” and I would crack up.... He was that funny, had an extraordinary personality and always made me feel welcome in his family home, just as did Ginny, George and Lisa. I am forever grateful for these wonderful childhood memories, and completely heartbroken over his passing. I pray for peace for all the family through this devastating time....

“ Mark was one of the most intelligent people I had the pleasure of meeting. He loved music and had a collection of songs that would put any guitar or music lover to shame. It wasn't just that he liked music but he knew band members, albums and other tidbits that would amaze me. He was brave but didn't think of himself that way. Even if the joke was terrible, the man loved to hear laughter and loved to laugh. If only at how bad your joke was. Mark loved his family. His love story with Robin was always on his mind and he kept her in the forefront of his thoughts.

“ Rich and I were happy to know Mark. He actually was our neighbor in Nashua for a short time before marrying and moving to Litchfield. I already knew Ginny from our years working together at HMS. We know what a sweet man Mark was, and we are thinking of you all during this difficult time. Sending prayers from our home in California, Linda and Rich Linscott

“ For the Mosnicka Family,

Nothing and no one can match the impact that Mark made on so many lives. The absolute love and adoration for his family, the many hearts he touched, the laughs he shared - there is no other. His everlasting question from forty years ago of, “Who sings it?” when a song came on the radio is still with me and brings a smile. As long as you will forgive me, Mark Alan with one L (as you always reminded), if I get Eric Clapton solo and Derek and the Dominoes mixed up here and there.

My heart is with all of you.

Rest in peace, my dear, dear, friend.

“ My deepest condolences to the Mosnicka family. I was blessed to have met Mark at Edgewood Centre, I've known Mark as long as I've been working there 4 1/2 years. Mark was sweet and funny, and he spoke often of how much he loved his family (children, parents and his beautiful granddaughter) he also often spoke of his late wife Robin and how much he loved and missed her. When Mark would smile or laugh it was such a wonderful sight. he had such a good heart and soul. he was so brave in his battle against MS, I never heard him complain or ask why me? He was kind to residents who'd wander into his room, greeting them, it was so nice.

He also used to speak of his sweet sister and his friends too. God bless Mark's soul..he was such a sweet, kind, intelligent man with high moral standards. I recall he told me a funny story how one of his Grandmothers was scared of peaches, something about their velvety skin she didnt like, so he'd put peaches near her to see her reaction. Soooo funny. Heaven has a new angel, Mark who's reunited with his angel Robin

“I was so lucky to have been a nurse and friend to Mark during my time at the Edgewood Centre. Mark was always full of life and happiness every day, no matter the obstacles he faced. Being a Floridian, I had not acquired the “Mass accent” and he and I would jokingly go back and forth in banter, I’d put on my best accent before entering his room “Hey Mahk!” and he’d put it on even thicker and reply “Hey Kahhhhhhlyyyy”. I can still hear his voice. His daughter and I share a name (different spelling) and my father’s name is also Mark. We instantly bonded over this when I first met him and I considered him a friend ever since. He spoke so highly of his children, they were his absolute pride and joy and he was one of the best human beings I have ever met. His loss is a huge one, my sincere condolences to his family. Just know that he touched and inspired everyone who met him and I will never ever forget him.”

“ I had the joy of caring for Mark for many years. He was on my assignment the day he moved in, and every single time I saw him after that he always greeted me with a smile and said how much he appreciated me. Mark always made me feel so appreciated, even on the really stressful days. Every morning I'd help him get up for the day, he'd have me turn him so he could see the painting of "his Robin" and tell her how beautiful she was. Mark was, by far, the most gracious man I have ever met. He talked so highly of his children and parents, and looked forward to their visits and calls, glowing like a kid at disney when he'd tell me about something his kids had done. An absolute wonderful man, and I am so blessed to have known him for the years I did. My deepest condolences with his family- ♡

“ Mark and I first met in the fall of 1977. We had both just moved to Hudson and somehow by fate we ended up at the same lunch table at Hudson Memorial School. We became lifelong best friends. Concerts, camping trips, canoe trips, golf weekends, and even just grabbing dinner and a beer to catch up, there were far too many great memories of our times together to list here. I know that if you are a friend or family to Mark you have probably heard about most of them because he loved to tell the stories.

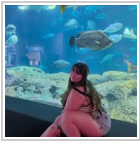

Rest easy my friend, you will be forever missed. I love you buddy!

“ Mark was a wonderful, thoughtful husband, father and for me a nephew! He will be missed. Very loving person, who fought a long, hard battle! Lot's of fun with him as a boy and then later in life at his cottage on the water with his wife and kids. Many, happy memories.
