“ Owen will truly be missed! There wasn't a day that went by without Owen taking the time to tell me thank you, and every day he would say " Hey, have I ever told you that I love you" and I would respond back to him " yes Owen you tell me every day.." and he would come back with " Okay just making sure I told you" :) Every Monday for the rest of the football season I will take the time to let him know how my son's football game went. Owen will not be forgotten. He will always have a piece of my heart! He is the reason I love what I do. Until I see you again... God Bless

Love Always,
Melissa
