“ I first met Sue as Norm's wife when he and I both worked at National Grange in Keene NH. Bowling, golfing, traveling, dinners, plays, and always laughing. Her big heart and irreverent sense of humor touched my life in so many ways. So many wonderful memories, I'll miss you, my friend,

“ I remember sharing stories with Sue when Ray was when I was dating Ray she was working at A&W root beer on a rollerskates and if anybody knows Sue that's not a good thing she was my son godmother and Norman was the godfather and she stayed with me when Ray was in the Navy and when he come home, she'd go home because mom didn't want me to be alone and then we played fire drill in the car getting Ray home
I'll miss you so much. She was more than a sister-in-law. She was my friend my conspirator. We had many good times together. I love you, Sue
