

Vince Mathis

May 27, 2025

Vince Mathis, of Hudson, New Hampshire, passed away peacefully at home on May 27, 2025 at the age of 80.

Those who knew and loved Vince will remember him for his endearing love of family and nature. He was raised in the mountains of Colorado, and was an exceptional outdoorsman, having hiked many of the treacherous Colorado peaks, hunted deer and elk, and was an artistic fly fisherman of the abundant creeks and rivers near his home. Vince often captured his love of nature with remarkable photographic skill. He was also a creative home builder, having built both conventional and log homes enhanced by construction of his beautiful hardscape designs.

In these last years in New Hampshire, gardening was his passion and the joy of all who passed by his Hudson home. This was not surprising given his university studies in horticulture and biology. New England's snowy winters also satisfied his love of shoveling snow. He enthusiastically put shovel to driveway and salt to steps and cleared paths in the early morning hours while most folks still slept.

We will dearly miss his joyful moments, happy smiles, subtle jokes and the love and care he brought to those of us in his daily life ... his wife, Pamela; daughter, Amy; granddaughter, Ellora; and son-in-law, Bobby; as well as the many coworkers with whom he shared his days these last seven years.

Rest in peace, Vince. You were dearly loved.
