“ We just heard about your tragic loss. Zach was such a sweet boy. We are all so saddened with this news and will miss his smiling face at Point Sebago. We were just talking about all the fun times the boys had in such a short period of time....snow tubing, movies, fishing, biking and just having a great time together in the street and around the camp fire. Our thoughts and prayers are with all of you. Take care.##imported-begin##The Allsop Family (LeeAnn,Brian,Ally,Nick,&Michael)##imported-end##

“ I heard about the tradgedy in your family and felt compelled to reach out to you and offer my sympathy and condolences. When I lost my son 3 and a half years ago I found some comfort hearing from another father that had also lost his son. His message to me was that the pain never goes away but gradually becomes more bearable. I can tell you the exact same thing. The pain that you feel today will become less extreme as time passes. My life today (after 3.5 years) is very good, I am happy and look forward to every day and my son remains with me in his memories and in the ways his life is continually celebrated by all that loved him. I imagine that the pain seems unbearable today and my prayers will be with your family to endure this pain that can not be compared to anything else.
God Bless.##imported-begin##Ross Hergenbahn ##imported-end##
